Jack Lugar For Congress Newsletter
Let's Reach An Agreement.
Vote Jack Lugar May 8, 2012

Indiana's 5th CD
December 2, 2011

Dear Elisabeth,

Late Thursday the Senate blocked plans submitted for extending the current payroll tax cut. Of course, Capitol Hill has promised to reach a compromise on the tax benefit before they leave Washington for Christmas, and they probably will, like they usually do at the last minute after much politicking and campaign rhetoric.

In fact that has already started with the President now blaming the Republicans for not passing the plan. I believe our leaders should stop playing the blame game and actually get something done. When will they work together to bring about real change and actually provide true hope to working Americans? When will the politicians get out of their own way, stop playing politics, and actually work toward real agreements that are in the best interest of the people of this country instead of their next campaign?

It's time to return our country to prosperity, and the time to take action is Right Now. Please join me in taking real leadership to Washington and building a true consensus for the betterment of our country

Best,

Jack

Lugar For Congress

Jack Lugar

Jack Lugar is a true Hoosier. Deeply committed to Indiana, Jack is an attorney at The Foster Group and a small business owner of Lugar Real Estate, LLC who like Ronald Reagan believes that "Man is not free unless government is limited."

Jack is the only frugal politician who is running for the U.S. House of Representatives in Indiana's 5th Congressional District. Jack's campaign is funded in its entirety by fellow Hoosiers and people who want real change and true hope.

Jack Lugar for Congress

Who in the World is Jack Lugar?

Some may wonder, "Who in the world is Jack Lugar?"

I am the only candidate demonstrating a frugal approach to campaigning in the race for Indiana's 5th Congressional District. I did not enter this race with a big war chest but rather with a vision for real change and true hope.

Capitol Hill continues to battle back and forth with the Republicans, Democrats and President all blaming each other for not passing bills and reaching an agreement. They talk of hope and change and yet do not deliver. It is time for real change and true hope. The words "Hope" and "Change" were watered down in the last election, however, there is a way to have real change and true hope and that is by sitting down at a table and not leaving until an agreement has been made. Yet, first the men and women who are representing our country must sit down at the table knowing they will reach an agreement. To date there has just been a lot of lip service and no action.

I am running a grassroots effort to bring about that change. My "war chest" is limited, but I have great volunteers who are passionate like me and have contributed a great website and video for this campaign. So while the campaign funds are limited, my vision for the future of this country is rich.

I am the real deal. I am an everyday American who has worked hard to provide for my family. I have a strong marriage and wife who believes in me, our country, and my desire to return this country to prosperity.

I will take my frugal mentality with me to Washington. In contrast, many of our current leaders in Congress developed their excessive spending habits on the campaign trail. They spent exorbitant amounts of money on their campaigns and then take that mentality with them and continue spending excessively once they get to Congress. I am a guy who has brown bagged it since my twenties and continue to do so.

We are planning a small gathering in January for those who want to actively participate in Jack Lugar for Congress, a campaign dedicated to Indiana values. Reach out to us if you want to be included at elugar@lugarforcongress.com or by calling my office.

My goal in Congress will be to work hard to represent Indiana: to cut regulations, create jobs, and stop overspending. I will look to the next generation to raise up new leaders and ensure that Indiana has a strong voice in Washington D.C. Congress needs to start looking to the next generation for the change America needs.

Right Now!

I'm in this race because my true conservative vision and determination have led me to take action and serve my native State and fellow Hoosiers.

I entered the race for the U.S. House of Representatives here in Indiana's 5th Congressional District after being approached by several Hoosiers, like me, who are disillusioned by career politicians that seem to be focused more on their reelection than listening to and helping the people in our communities, private industry, and small businesses. As an answer to that call, I have stepped forward in a willingness to serve my community, state, and country.

I firmly believe that it is not too late to bring our economy back to greatness. But we need leaders in Washington who are willing to make difficult decisions that will benefit our children, and their children. I do not want my children to suffer under a failing economy, unwarranted government regulations, and excessive tax rates. I want to return the power in this country to the people by shrinking the federal government and empowering the states as our Constitution directs. It's time for the federal government to stop overreaching, and the time is Right Now.

I believe the way to win our future back is to do it together, and be on the ground and meeting with voters. I want to look you in the eye, shake your hand, and hear your concerns and desires for Indiana and this country.

Your willingness to help me in this endeavor will truly open the door and provide us a seat at the table in Washington.

Join me in my efforts!
