Indiana's 5th CD
December 16, 2011

Dear Elisabeth,

As of today, instead of a "Do Nothing Congress," we're seeing more of a "Do Nothing President." Today the House passed a $1 trillion budget bill, while the Senate and the President wrangled over the Payroll Tax Cut and Keystone Pipeline. However, the President has insisted that he will veto any bill that comes to his desk that moves forward on the pipeline. Despite the fact that it could create up to 20,000 jobs, the President is attempting to delay any decision on the pipeline until after 2012's election.

Once again, the President and many members of the Senate are putting their reelection desires over the people of this country. Because the President doesn't want to make a choice that would offend one of his two major constituents - environmentalists and unions - he's playing politics with a major job creator. In addition, the pipeline would be another step toward energy independence, which for some reason the President shows little interest in, even though it would drive business and consumer costs down and have a direct influence on job creation in other sectors.

As I've said before, we need to stop playing politics with the future of this country. I want to leave a thriving country for my children and future generations. Therefore, I am more interested in raising up new leaders and willing to sacrifice my career for that which is in the best interest of those in Indiana and America as a whole. It's time to elect real leaders who will make the hard decisions for the betterment of our country instead of their political campaigns.

Best,

Jack

A Tribute to my Grandmother

Upon sifting through boxes of heirlooms left by my grandmother, Alta Tuttle Lugar, I came across an article she wrote for the Home Makers' Union of Boone County titled "My Desire for America in 1976." The ideals and ideas she passed down continue to resonate: We should have the courage and foresight to fight against misfortune and apathy. So, it is only fitting that my future constituents know the deep commitment my family has to America and to Indiana. She wrote:

"Do I take certain pride that my forefathers were real pioneers in America? Perhaps you, too, can bear with me in that pride that they had a part in building this country from settling, then moving on and frontiering a part in growth from the land itself to government. I've tried to instill this same pride in my children and in their children.

Do people of ancestry who came here in recent generations or recent years feel any different? I think not because they are a part of my family also. They all came here for the same reasons; wanting the same things. Though there may have been a little difference in their ideals, being of different cultures, they all had ideals and ideas to go along with them.

Has human nature changed so much during the course of our development in the past 400 years that we are actually asking for any more than our forefathers wanted?

The things they asked for have grown and developed: spiritual health, physical health, freedom from oppression, and want, and a chance to grow in all these things.

Now, as a nation, we have grown to include the whole world in helping our friends and neighbors achieve these ideals for themselves also.

So, what is my desire for America? Not just America in 1976, but for all time.

America is made of Americans, --people, ----. My desire for them is that they can continue in foresight, and courage, and persistence against apathy and misfortune, to continue to build and grow under the guidance of the Heavenly Father and in turn be an example and a helping hand to all this world."

My goal in Congress will be to work hard to represent Indiana to act as my grandmother urged with "foresight, and courage, and persistence against apathy and misfortune." As a result, I will work to cut regulations, create future of this country is rich.

I am the real deal. I am an everyday American who has worked hard to provide for my family. I have a strong marriage and wife who believes in me, our country, and my desire to return this country to prosperity."

Jack is the only frugal politician who is running for the U.S. House of Representatives in Indiana's 5th Congressional District. Jack's campaign is funded in its entirety by fellow Hoosiers and people who want real change and true hope.

Jack is actively involved in his community and representing his clients. Jack is part of a team at The Foster Group who build relationships with their clients while providing legal counsel. Jack practices employment, education, business, and real estate law; while providing entertainment management services.

Jack will take the same understanding and dedication he has given to his business throughout the years to represent Hoosiers in Congress.

jobs, and stop the overspending. Also, I will look to the next generation and raise up new leaders and ensure that Indiana has a strong voice in Washington D.C.

Renewal and Change 2012

Jack Lugar is a native Hoosier, raised in Indianapolis in a hard working, middle class family where he was taught the importance of financial responsibility, integrity, a work ethic, standing up for his principles, and accountability. After working in the entertainment industry in Los Angeles, Jack returned to his home state where he and his wife chose to raise their family.

Jack has always brought his principles, passion, and work ethic to his professional life and community. Currently an attorney with The Foster Group, Jack's experience in private practice has exposed him to many of the issues that Hoosiers struggle with on a daily basis. He has also represented a variety of large companies, government entities, and businesses in achieving their business goals.

Jack understands the small business owner. He has been fortunate enough to have his own successes in business, and knows how to effectively operate one. During these difficult economic times, Jack has managed to build and grow a successful real estate brokerage firm in Lugar Real Estate, LLC.

Prior to that he managed his writing career and was represented by The Gersh Agency in Los Angeles. Upon returning to his home state of Indiana, he studied the constitution at IU School of Law, Indianapolis and worked as a lawyer at the Indiana Attorney General's Office. He understands the the need to create jobs, grow our economy, and provide affordable healthcare options.

Jack has taken his commitment to smaller government to the streets in supporting and championing grass root community projects that serve communities more effectively than the government ever could. Jack currently sits on the Board of, and is an active participant with Henry's Hope. This non-profit provides for children with life threatening illnesses. He is also the inspiration for Project: Create, developing artistic educational resources for at-risk youth.

Jack also serves on the institutional review board for Concentrics Research, overseeing the protection of human subjects in medical testing.

Changing Course

Jack LUGAR

Please join us on the campaign trail. Together we can make a difference. Your support is extremely valuable in making the changes that are desperately needed. There are many ways to get involved.

Jack believes in, and is committed to, private outreach to solve many of our problems. The federal government cannot effectively solve most of them, and should stop trying.

Jack has taught as an adjunct professor at Taylor University, his alma mater, on the topic of new media and the law, and offers public seminars focusing on story development, screenwriting, and social media marketing. He earned a degree in Communication Studies from Taylor University and his law degree from Indiana School of Law, Indianapolis. Jack and his wife of 20 years, Elisabeth, have three children; Callista, Ethan, and Conrad. They are active members of Bridgeway Community Church in Fishers, Indiana.

It is time to change course. I'm in this race because my true conservative vision and determination have led me to take action - Right Now, and serve my native State and fellow Hoosiers. I need to gather at least 60,000 votes on May 8, 2012. We can change the course together.

Sincerely,

Jack Lugar

While financial donations are necessary to run an effective campaign and we would appreciate that assistance, your support by telling your neighbors, putting up a yard sign, hosting a small coffee with friends, or joining us at community events is just as important.

Please contact our office at 317-537-1705, by email at elugar@LugarforCongress.com, or visit our website at www.LugarforCongress.com.

I believe the way to win our future back is to do it together, and be on the ground and meeting with voters. I want to look you in the eye, shake your hand, and hear your concerns and desires for Indiana and this country. Your willingness to help me in this endeavor will truly open the door and provide us a seat at the table in Washington.

Thank you for your support. I look forward to working with you throughout this campaign and in the years to come.

JACK LUGAR, Republican Candidate for the 5th Congressional District, is accessible. He wants to meet with you and is available for coffee in the mornings or will join you and your neighbors at a "Coffee, Conversation, and Dessert."

Jack is interested in what you think about the issues such as economy, job creation, energy independence, education, infrastructure, and tax reform.
